NORTHAMPTONSHIRE COUNTY BADMINTON ASSOCIATION

Senior County Championships (SCC)
Selection Process – Guidance Note

1. Why we have a selection process

The purpose of SCC selection is simple:
to put out competitive, balanced teams that represent Northamptonshire positively, while keeping county badminton enjoyable, inclusive and well-run.

This guidance explains how selections are normally made, so players understand the approach and what selectors broadly look at.

Selection always involves judgement, flexibility and common sense.

2. Who is involved in selection

SCC selections are normally discussed and agreed by the NCBA Committee, drawing on:

- knowledge of players' current form,
- input from coaches and organisers where appropriate,
- practical considerations such as availability and team balance.

From time to time, practical decisions may be needed at short notice (for example due to injuries, withdrawals or late availability changes). In these situations, the Chair may help coordinate or confirm arrangements so that teams can be finalised smoothly and without unnecessary delay.

3. What selectors generally look at

There is no single formula for selection. A range of factors may be considered, including:

Playing form and performance

- recent match results and competitive form; performance at County Restricted events and other competitions;
- how players are performing at the time of selection.

Participation and engagement

- involvement in county activity where possible;
- attendance at county training sessions when able;
- responsiveness to communications and availability requests.

Availability and commitment

- availability for SCC match dates;
- reliability once selected.

Team balance

- creating balanced teams across singles, doubles and mixed;
- pairing combinations and squad coverage;
- overall team cohesion.

Conduct and team approach

- positive attitude and sportsmanship;
- respectful communication with volunteers and teammates;
- willingness to contribute to a supportive county environment.

No single factor guarantees selection, and different factors may matter more at different times.

4. County Restricted and training

The County Restricted tournament and county training sessions are useful opportunities for selectors to:

- see players competing locally;
- observe combinations and current form;
- keep in touch with the playing group.

They are part of the county pathway and are normally considered, but they are not the only way selectors assess players.

5. Communicating selections

Selected players will be contacted through the usual county communication channels.

Where players are not selected, they are welcome to ask for clarification about:

- how the selection process works;
- the general factors that were taken into account.

This is intended to support understanding and transparency, not to create an appeal process or re-run selection decisions.

6. Keeping county badminton positive

County badminton relies heavily on volunteers giving their time to organise teams, fixtures and competitions.

Everyone involved is asked to:

- keep communication respectful and proportionate;
- raise questions directly and constructively;
- remember that selection decisions are made with the best interests of the team and county in mind.

Our aim is to maintain a friendly, supportive and enjoyable county environment for players and volunteers alike.

7. Final note

Selection decisions reflect judgement at a particular point in time and are made using the information available then.

The NCBA may review this guidance from time to time to ensure it continues to reflect how county badminton operates in practice.
